Conditions of Membership

To be accepted into membership, individuals must:

1. Pay annual dues (membership is per calendar year, i.e. January 1 to December 31).
2. Sign the Code of Ethics (as a commitment to the aims and ideas of the association, not as a legal binding document).
3. Be a member in good standing (as determined by a majority vote of the Governing Board).
4. Officially represent CWCOA only when authorized by the Governing Board (includes use of logo, copyrighted materials, etc).

Note: Every new member is assumed to be in good standing unless an issue prompts a Governing Board vote. At that time the Governing Board will vote to: 1) reaffirm good standing, 2) place the member on one-year probation without voting privileges, or 3) terminate membership.

Conditions for Referral Listing

To participate in CWCOA's website job referral list, members must:

1. Be a regular member (i.e. voting member as opposed to non-voting associate member).
2. Be a member in good standing.
3. Be a registered business with the Department of Revenue (i.e. have a dba) or have a certificate of good standing with the Secretary of State. (Must submit proof of either one.)
4. Have liability insurance. (Must submit proof.)
5. Be active and provide input into the workings and activities of the association.

Please include proof of business and liability insurance with application and check.

CODE OF ETHICS

As a practicing member of CWCOA, I will . . .

1. Abide by wildlife damage management laws and regulations to which I am subject.
2. Ascribe to a professional code of conduct that embodies honesty, integrity, service, duty and dependability.
3. Demonstrate a high level of regard and respect for people, property and wildlife.
4. Promote appreciation for and understanding of the various values of wildlife and scientific wildlife management, especially as they relate to human health, safety and economic concerns.
5. Be sensitive to and make allowances for the various viewpoints on wildlife damage management.
6. Provide professional advice and expertise on managing wildlife damage to my clientele as appropriate within the limits of my experience and training.
7. Promote competence and professionalism by supporting high standards of education, training, employment and performance.
8. Strive to broaden my knowledge, skills and abilities to practice wildlife damage management through continuing education.
9. Strive to utilize the best management practices of the wildlife damage industry to include the considerations of humaneness, selectivity, safety, effectiveness and practicality.
10. Treat my competitors and clientele in a courteous and respectful manner consistent with honorable business practices.
11. Encourage through word and example all wildlife damage control operators to adhere to this code and to participate in their state and national associations.
